National Health Insurance Service

Contact person

According to a change in national policy, all international students are subject to a mandatory subscription to the National Health Insurance Service (NHIS), which is operated by the Korean government. This means that students will be automatically subscribed to the NHIS, even if they do not apply. The NHIS will be active once your registration number is issued. Also, a bill will be sent to each student's Korean address after their Registration Card is made. This address would be the one they put when applying for their Registration Card.

Students with NHIS will have the same benefits as Korean citizens, including dental and oriental medical treatment, health checkups, etc. There will be restrictions on health insurance benefits, visa extensions, etc., if the fee is unpaid. In other words, students will not be able to extend their study period at CAU.

Since the fee is relatively high (approximately 70 USD per month), students can choose to obtain other private insurance plans in their home country before coming to Korea. However, this would mean they would be deliberately choosing to ignore Korea's national policy, and they will face the disadvantages mentioned above.

For all inquiries, students should visit the NHIS website, or contact the NHIS Customer Service (1577-1000, dial 7 for information in foreign languages) or NHIS Foreign Language Consultation (033-811-2000) after arriving in Korea.

*All exchange/visiting students are responsible for National Health Insurance Service payment for themselves. The OIA will not financially support any student in case of accidents or injuries.
